

WALL ALIGNER TIPS

The Western Forms Wall Aligner with Slip Bar is a great tool for shifting forms to align and straighten your walls. The slip bar (spoon end) can be slid under the endrail (top or bottom rail) of the form to scoot the form into line.

Be sure to train your crews to use the slip bar correctly. Improper use will damage the endrails of your forms over time.

Make the most of your investments by using forms, accessories, tools, and supplies correctly and effectively. For more tips on application and usage, contact Jonathan Pizey at 800-821-3870.

Place the slip bar under a section supported by a vertical brace.

DO NOT insert the slip bar under an unsupported section of endrail.

Or, place the slip bar under the gusseted corner of the form.
